Research Interests / Specialization
Medical Microbiology & Immunology:
My Laboratory is working to identify the host receptors and the host-parasite's pathways involved in the symptomatic and asymptomatic sequelae and immune evasion caused by Trichomoniasis, Sepsis and Urinary Tract Infections (UTI). We are also working to identify the host molecules responsible for acute inflammation and particular virulence factors triggering the inflammatory pathway after Uropathogenic E.coli (UPEC) infection. Ultimately identification of target molecules either in the host or in bacteria may prove to be a better approach to win over this disease. The complexity of the acquisition and spread of Multiple Drug Resistant phenotypes pose a significant threat to human health. As they entail serious therapeutic challenges due to their ability to withstand the effect of different classes of antimicrobial agents. We are looking out for a possible mechanism or factor(s) behind the antibiotic resistance by investigating antibiotic susceptibility pattern and clonal group pattern in E. coli worldwide, along with our international collaborators. Working to understand the association between the prevalence of antibiotic resistance and CRISPR repeats in UPEC causing UTIs. Also working for the design/development of target specific antibiofilm compounds in UTI patients. These studies will be helpful to understand the possible mechanism or factor(s) behind the antibiotic resistance, which can be further exploited as a therapeutic means for the treatment of UTI infection.
